6.3.5 - Institutions Performance Appraisal System for teaching and non- teaching staff

Feedback from students is collected online to evaluate teachers based on criteria such as classroom management, availability, regularity, syllabus completion, subject knowledge, fairness in assessment, and ability to motivate students. Analysis of this feedback helps staff enhance strengths and address weaknesses, contributing to their overall development. In line with UGC and Joint Directorate (J.D) of Higher Education, Government of Maharashtra directives, the institution implements a Performance Based Appraisal System (PBAS). Teachers submit filled PBAS formats to the Principal, and Annual Proformas are also submitted by various staff members to IQAC for collation and verification.

For Career Advancement under the Career Advancement Scheme (CAS), PBAS formats are submitted to the Principal at the end of each academic session. These are verified by the Principal and forwarded to the J.D and RTM Nagpur University. Additionally, all teaching and non-teaching staff submit Confidential Reports to the Principal via their respective HoDs. Individual staff members maintain Daily Notes Diaries, which are submitted to the Principal through the HoD at the end of each month.

6.4 - Financial Management and Resource Mobilization

6.4.1 - Institution conducts internal and external financial audits regularly Enumerate the various internal and external financial audits carried out during the year with the mechanism for settling audit objections within a maximum of 200 words

The Annual Financial Audit is conducted by a Chartered Accountant, with the most recent audit completed in August 2023. This audit process aids in reviewing funds, planning, and formulating budgets for the upcoming financial year. Additionally, external financial audits are carried out by the State Government through the Joint Director of Higher Education, Nagpur. Periodic audits are also conducted by the Office of the Accountant General, particularly for grants received from governmental bodies such as UGC, RUSA, etc.

For UGC grants, accounts are prepared in the required format upon completion of sanctioned projects, seminars, workshops, conferences, etc. These accounts undergo initial audit by the Chartered Accountant before being submitted to the UGC. Upon settlement of accounts, a no-objection certificate is obtained. Similarly, accounts for examinations conducted on behalf of RTM Nagpur University are audited first by the Principal and then by the university itself.

In the event of any audit objections, the Accounts section of the College promptly addresses them, and consultation with the Chartered Accountant is sought when necessary.

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

The institution has taken proactive steps to address the unique needs of its female students by establishing a comprehensive SHAKTI Cell. This dedicated initiative focuses on fostering gender sensitization, empowerment, and the prevention of discrimination and harassment. Female students benefit from a range of support services, including counseling provided by trained staff members, as well as robust safety measures such as round-the-clock security personnel and stringent access controls.

Moreover, the institution has provided a separate common room exclusively for female students, equipped with essential amenities like washrooms and sanitary napkin vending machines, all maintained by female staff. Co-curricular activities organized by the SHAKTI Cell aim to promote gender equity, health, and mental well-being, with workshops covering diverse topics such as discrimination laws, cancer awareness, and government schemes like 'Beti Bachao Beti Padhao'. Special events like "Girl Child Day" serve to celebrate and elevate the status of girls, while initiatives like a PowerPoint competition held on International Women's Day encourage active participation and dialogue on issues of gender equality and empowerment. 7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

Our institute employs comprehensive waste management strategies tailored to different waste types. Degradable solid waste, primarily leaf litter, is left to decompose naturally, enriching the soil. Nondegradable solid waste like wrappers and bottles are collected in dustbins and later disposed off by municipal waste collection agencies. Students are educated on proper waste disposal through motivational talks and cleanliness drives. Cardboard, paper, and glass waste are sold to scrap vendors, contributing to the college's revenue. Liquid waste from washrooms and laboratories is channeled into underground tanks to prevent environmental contamination. An incinerator manages sanitary napkin disposal in the girls' common room, while other hazardous waste is limited. E-waste from unused or irreparable equipment is sold to certified recycling dealers, ensuring safe disposal. Our holistic approach to waste management emphasizes environmental sustainability while harnessing opportunities for financial gain and student engagement in conservation efforts.

The Shikhar cell meticulously evaluates students' overall academic performance. The student achieving the highest aggregate marks or excelling in a particular subject in college or university examinations is eligible for this honour. Among the prestigious awards, the "Best Outgoing Student" award stands out as particularly exciting and coveted. Many students eagerly anticipate this recognition, which is bestowed upon individuals who excel academically and demonstrate well-rounded abilities.
